

We, on behalf of the Biblioteca Municipal de Câmara de Lobos, express our full support for the nomination of Madeira Wine to be inscribed on the UNESCO Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.

Our organization is committed to promoting and preserving cultural traditions that contribute to the economic and social development of local communities. Madeira Wine, with its rich history and unique production methods, is not just a drink, but a symbol of the cultural identity of the Madeira region and an important economic driver for many local producers.

We recognize that the production of Madeira Wine offers significant opportunities for improving the economic situation of many families, especially in rural communities. The tradition of viticulture and winemaking is often passed down from generation to generation, involving not only men but also many women who play crucial roles in all stages of the process, from harvesting to marketing.

Madeira Wine not only generates income, but also promotes tourism and education about the culture and history of Madeira, contributing to the appreciation of local heritage and raising the standard of living of communities.

For these reasons, we give our consent and support to the nomination of Madeira Wine to the Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.
