DECLARATION

In the name of Casa do Povo do Paúl do Mar, we express our full support for the application/nomination of the Madeira Wine Traditions to be inscribed on UNESCO's Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.

Casa do Povo do Paúl do Mar, located in the parish of Paúl do Mar in the municipality of Calheta, is dedicated to fostering social interaction by providing various services to the community and its members, as well as promoting sociocultural and professional initiatives that safeguard local traditions and heritage.

We recognize that viticulture and wine production remain an important source of livelihood and well-being for many Madeiran families, particularly in rural areas.

Madeira Wine, with a legacy spanning more than five centuries, is a cornerstone of the identity, culture, and economy of the Autonomous Region of Madeira, playing a vital role in local development and in supporting the work of small-scale farmers.

Through this letter of consent, we reaffirm our willingness to collaborate with all entities involved in the application/nomination, contributing to the promotion of the cultural values associated with this traditional beverage within the broader context of cultural and international cooperation.

For all these reasons, we strongly reaffirm our support for the inscription of Madeira Wine on UNESCO's Representative List of the Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity.
