

The tour led by Ana Gonçalves offers the chance to discover Madeira's traditional heroic viticulture in the harmonious transition between banana trees and vineyards. The estate includes the family home and a traditional house that over the years served as a farm dwelling, winepress, warehouse, and animal shelter, offering privileged views of Pico da Torre, the Atlantic Ocean, Cabo Girão, and Funchal.

Explore the Tinta Negra pergolas set at an altitude of 430 metres, discover the use of banana tree fibre to tie the vines in the traditional way, observe the traditional polyculture (fruits and vegetables), and finish with a Madeira wine tasting accompanied by homemade jams made with fruit from the estate. The property also offers local accommodation.
